

Performance Shagya-Arabian Registry Inspection

The Shagya-Arabian is quickly becoming the breed of choice for riders and equine enthusiasts in all disciplines. It owes its noble qualities of devotion to its rider, a kind temperament, hardiness, size, athleticism, and jumping ability to a selective and dedicated breeding program and a history of rigorous performance testing.

The result? A rare and versatile equine partner equally at home in dressage, endurance, show jumping, eventing, harness and pleasure riding.

May, 2015

Dear Shagya-Arabian Friends, Judges, Volunteers, Spectators, Veterinarian and PShR Members:

Exactly two years ago we welcomed you to our first PShR Inspection, held in the European style and approved by the International Shagya-Araber Gesellschaft or ISG.

We are proud to welcome you this year again, and others for the first time. Welcome!

Two official ISG judges - Dr. Walter Huber (Germany) and Judit Kovacs (Budapest) - will attend this year to maintain the high European standards. We look forward to learn together with our horses again.

Enjoy the wonderful horses which will be presented, they will give you all their best.

In the name of our Board Members and members of the participating commissions, the volunteers, which offered a little finger and got taken the whole hand, I wish you a wonderful time at the four locations in North America.

Yours truly,

Anke

PS, my typical German short way: We would be very thankful for every additional Volunteer (Finger or Hand), Member, Sponsor (a lot !!!) and FRIENDS (more!!). Thank You!

Anke Brander

RAA's Shagya-Arabians

Boothcreek Ranch Cranbrook, BC, Canada

What is a Shagya-Arabian?

Today's Shagya-Arabian is a rare, but versatile sport horse equally at home at dressage, eventing, show jumping, hunting, endurance, harness, and pleasure riding.

The breed began in 1789 when the Hungarian military set out to develop a new breed of horse that combined the very best of Bedouin Arabians: elegance, endurance, hardiness, athleticism, temperament, and devotion to their rider, but with larger size, jumping ability, and riding ease to master the rigors and versatility of a cavalry horse. The intent of the program was to develop a superior horse that was equally at home under saddle and in harness and that could be used to improve other breeds. So successful was the breeding program that the Hapsburg's Imperial Guard in Vienna and the Royal Guard in Budapest were mounted on Shagya-Arabians, and Shagyas were the cavalry officer's horse of choice.

The breed's name comes from a magnificent Bedouin stallion named Shagya, born in 1810, bred (from Kehilan and Slglavy strains) and raised by the Bani Saher tribe in Syria and obtained by Hapsburg monarchy in 1836 at age 26 to stand at stud in Babolna, Hungary. This magnificent stallion was renowned in his day not only for his perfect size, type, and movement, but also for his ability as a sire to pass on these qualities to his offspring. Today, virtually every Shagya-Arabian breeding line has his blood somewhere in it. Through time, elite desert bred Arabians were carefully added to the bloodlines, and English Thoroughbreds and Lippizaners were occasionally included in the breeding mix to help improve size, movement, and riding qualities.

Right from the outset, performance testing was regarded as essential. Both mares and stallions were put through rigorous tests, including dressage, a 10-day 480 mile ride across plains, forests and mountains, 2-mile sprints, and long distance driving. Careful records were kept of the horses' jumping, speed, condition, and disposition. New stallions were rigorously progeny tested, including breeding to 30 mares a year for 3 years, the mares differing in quality. Ten were of low quality, ten of average quality, and ten high quality. The offspring were carefully reviewed by committee, and if any did not meet the standards, the entire group was sold off. Any mare or stallion that did not meeting the high standards were culled and sold at auction, ensuring that only high performance bloodlines were used in the breeding program.

The characteristics of the Shagya-Arabian are well established. The Shagya-Arabian should have the appearance of a beautiful, elegant, and harmonious riding horse with correctness of gaits and movements, who enjoys jumping and has good jumping ability, has pleasant rhythm and rideability, is trusting, good natured, and willing to learn, and has robust health, longevity, and fertility with stamina and frugality. Although there is no longer a military need for Shagya-Arabians, all the noble qualities the breed possesses, make it an ideal horse.

INSPECTION: Description of Events

Inspection for Mares and Stallions, Shagya-Arabian or purebred Arabian, consists of multiple, mandatory phases. These include the Veterinary Exam, submission of SCID and DNA results, In-Hand and at Liberty presentation, Under Saddle/Rideability, Interior Test, and Free Jump. Additionally, Open Competition requirements in one of several disciplines must be completed and documented. Successful completion of these requirements results in PShR Licensing and placement in the PShR Studbooks per their performance and pedigree.

Evaluation of Geldings and Shagya Sporthorses, Shagya-Arabian or purebred Arabian, are evaluated rather than inspected. Evaluation includes the choice of one or all of the following tests: In-Hand and at Liberty presentation, Under Saddle/Rideability, Interior Test, and Free Jump. Successful completion of these tests results in certification.

Veterinary Examination

All mares and stallions seeking licensing and breeding approval must stand for the licensed veterinarian at the inspection site. The purpose of the exam is to look for anomalies, heart defects, existing faults of teeth or testicles, deficiencies or other conditions indicating genetic predisposition. The exam will include but is not limited to a flexion test and trot out on a hard surface.

In-Hand and At Liberty Presentation

Horses will be presented using the USDF Sporthorse In-Hand procedure. Horses will be shown on the triangle and at liberty in both directions of the ring. The horses should be clean and well behaved. Handlers should be appropriately dressed in conservative attire. Grooms will be allowed in the arena to help encourage the horse to move in a natural manner. The judges will evaluate the horse for 'type' and physical attributes of the head, neck, body and legs. On the triangle and/or at liberty, the judges will score the horse's movement at the walk, trot and canter.

Under Saddle/Rideability

To complete the Under Saddle/Rideability test, horses four (4) years of age or older will be ridden at a walk, trot and canter in the discipline style of the riders' choice. Horses will be ridden both directions of the ring, complete a 20 meter circle and cross the diagonal of the ring. There is a cross rail to jump at the gait of the rider's choice. If possible, two or three horses will work in the ring at one time. Mixing stallions with mares can be an exception. Two test riders will ride the horse and report to the judges their overall impression. Observations will include: Way of going and quality of the gait, overall impression, willingness to work, temperament/obedience.

- continued -

Interior Test

The Interior Test is designed to determine the character and temperament of the horse in an unusual situation. The horse will be scored on his willingness to walk beside the handler in an easily managed fashion. When directed by the judge, the handler and the horse enter the arena. The horse should be next to the handler with some slack in the lead. The space between the handler and horse should remain consistent. The horse should have a pleasant and interested attitude with a flat walk. Overly excited response to obstacles as well as complete non-interest in the presented course will result in lost points. Optimally the horse remains manageable and calm when unexpected stimuli occur and exhibits a trusting, good-natured behavior.

Free Jumping Protocol

The free jumping chute consists of 3 obstacles, in order: a simple cross-rail, a cross rail with a horizontal rail directly behind, and an oxer. The handler will first walk the horse into and alongside of the chute to allow him to see and become familiar with the chute set-up and jump elements. Evaluation criteria: When jumping a horse should look bold, confident and happy while displaying good jumping ability. Front legs should be tucked while the hind legs are open. The back should be well-arched (basculé) and elastic. The horse should be able to determine the appropriate take off and landing over the jump. Undesirable jumping technique include jumping without control, hanging forelegs, head too high, retracted hind legs and a stiff, straight or hollow back.

Branding of PShR Shagya-Arabians

As per the ISG RZBO and the PShR ZBO (breeding guidelines) Shagya-Arabian horses (including foals) may be branded by the branding delegate on the left thigh with the breed specific "Shagya-Sun" brand. Any exceptions must to be approved by ISG. To qualify for branding a Shagya-Arabian must have both a sire and dam belonging to Books I or II. Branding is a birthright of legitimate, purebred offspring; it does not depend on inspection or performance testing.

Dr. Walter Huber

PShR Inspection Judge

Family physician, photographer, journalist and Nebraska cowboy include only a few of the talents of Dr. Walter Huber. He is also a worldwide Shagya-Arabian ambassador, tirelessly traveling from the Americas to Eastern Europe to see any Shagya he can find. With Walter no one is a stranger for long.

Dr. Huber's bond with the Shagya-Arabian began as a young man when he was able to convince his family to stop at the famous Babolna Stud while on holiday. Historical photos often seen of Shagya XXXIX and O'Bajan XIII are from Dr. Huber's personal archives during this visit, and include one of Walter as young man riding the famous Shagya XXXIX, foreshadowing Walter's future as a major spokesperson for the breed. He remains well-known for his photos from atop a beautiful Shagya with the ears framing the scene.

The 1976 Shagya-Arabian stallion Shagal, bred by Ulla Nyegaard of the Barthahus Stud in Denmark, was purchased by Dr. Huber and became his personal companion, enjoying fox hunting, quadrilles and jumping. Shagal, honored as Shagya III in Babolna, was the 1986 European Champion Shagya Stallion. In 1985 Shagal was approved for breeding by the Trakehner Verband in Germany. The influence of Shagal can be found in several countries, including time spent at a Trakehner stud in Ireland.

Today Dr. Huber owns the Shagya stallions Janus (Pamino x Janett by Amor) and Shagan (Shagal x ShyDr.a by Shagya XLIV); both have stood at Kabiuk State Stud in Bulgaria. Shagan was the 1997 ISG European Champion Senior Shagya Stallion. In addition to his Shagya-Arabians, Walter has bred Shagya/Trakehner sporthorses. Pictured above is Dr. Huber riding Shaganah by Shagan.

Studying medicine in Munich and Saarbrücken, Dr. Huber has been a Family Physician since 1972 in Nonnenhorn, located on the picturesque Lake Constance. His beautiful wife Inge is also a physician and in 2012 their son joined Walter in his practice. Walter and Inge are the proud parents of four children and three (and counting) grandchildren.

As a member of the International Shagya Society Board of Directors and a respected judge, we are pleased to have Dr. Huber back for our second PShR inspection.

Judit Erzsébet Kovács

PShR Inspection Judge

Judit's choice of profession was determined by her fascination with riding and horses. She graduated from the Agricultural University of Gödöllő as a certified engineer in agriculture with a specialty in animal breeding biotechnology. Soon after she finished at the university she became educated as a riding instructor. At that time she had already had her first junior horse, a two-year-old unriden mare of the Hungarian breed Furioso of Mezöhegyes, whom she rode herself.

At the end of the '90s she was able to live her dream: she got a job in the Arabian Stud of Bábolna as a stud-book keeper engineer and she also worked for the Society of Hungarian Arabian Horse Breeders, where she was a member of the Breeding Committee. After some reorganization and personal changes in Bábolna she left the stud, and moved to the South of Hungary, where she became an animal breeding inspector at the County Office of the Hungarian Agricultural Ministry.

Since 2004 and the accession of Hungary to the European Union, she has been leading the County Office of the Agricultural and Rural Development Agency, (which is the Hungarian paying agency for EU subsidies.)

Besides her job in government administration she kept in touch with the Hungarian Arabian Horse Breeders Society. She was asked to judge at stallion examinations in Bábolna in 2001 and since then has judged almost every year. She completed the ISG international judge course in Bábolna in 2006 after which she was invited to judge Shagya horses in Austria, Switzerland and at international shows in Hungary.

She currently resides in County Tolna with her horses. She still has her Furioso "youngster," who became in the meantime a 25-years-old healthy old lady and her "filly," who is now 20. Judit says they are family members for their life-time. Since they are nearly in a pensioner's age, Judit found a new activity for them, by joining the topics of horse treatment and leadership: coaching with horses. She supports other leaders to fine-tune their management skills with the assistance of her horses.

WineGlass Marsalla

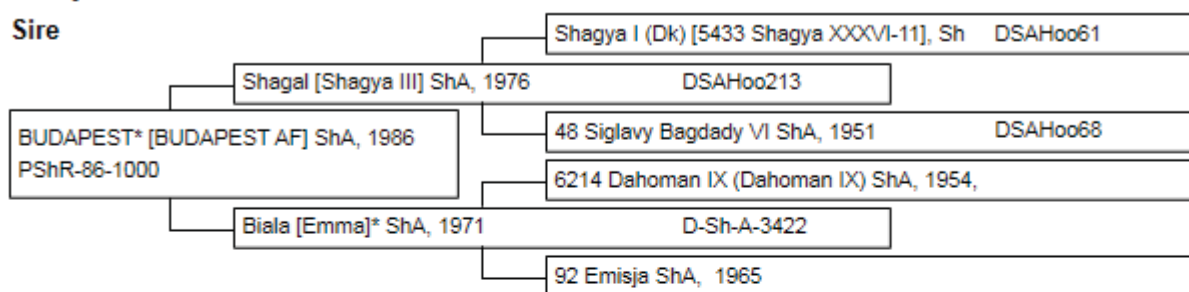

Owned by Linda Rudolphi, Presented by Olivia Rudolphi

Marsalla (*Budapest x WineGlass Madeira) is a bright chestnut, 2010 Shagya mare. Marsalla suffered an unusual injury early in her training leaving her left hind fetlock permanently damaged. However, she has been able to prove the tenacity and trust found throughout her bloodlines. With a poor prognosis she came out of a 50-50 surgery accepting veterinary hospital surroundings, strangers and numerous procedures with kindness and a willingness to understand what was being asked. It has been less than a year and her rehabilitation is going well. Even though competition will not be in her future, her value as a broodmare will be immeasurable.

Lily Creek Believers Journey is a six year old Shagya-Arabian mare bred by Donna Coss. I purchased Lily when she was six months old and have continued with her development and training ever since she came to my farm. She has been a delightful mare to work with and I have loved teaching her the Seven Games of the Parelli Program. We continue to do lessons with Gretchen Arndt Hoernke, 2 Star Parelli trainer at the Horse First Farm in Oregon, WI. She is just completing a four week clinic with Ryan Rose, 4 Star Parelli Instructor at the Horse First Farm. We plan to be out on the trail and as always promoting the wonderful Shagya-Arabian breed.

Her career was cut short in 2009 when she underwent colic surgery. She did compete in Limited Distance rides after that, but her real job now is as a broodmare. She had a filly by the Straight Russian Arabian, Fire Star SF (RD Five Star x Perketta) and in 2014 she had a colt, RAL Maximum Securi D, by the Shagya-Arabian stallion, Max (Amurath Samurai* x Komelia*). Lily Creek Legacy (Piper), bred by Donna Coss, was the first horse I started. I was lucky in that she practically saddled herself and seemed more than eager for me to climb on so she could start her career. As of the end of 2014, she had 160 endurance miles and 175 LD miles, including two top-ten LD finishes, 75 miles in two days at an AERC ride, and a three-day 80-mile competitive trail ride, earning reserve champion. She takes good care of herself (and me) on trail, so I'm optimistic that she will make a 100-mile horse. I'm also bringing her along in dressage and have tried jumping. She is the quintessential "family" horse – taking me on my endurance rides, being fancy in the ring, and then letting my partner's five-year-old grandson ride her.

She has an enormous trot and a competitive desire to stay ahead of the pack. At the end of 2014, she had 260 endurance miles and 175 LD miles in AERC rides, including two top-tens in LDs. She's not all business, however – she is also very sweet and loving, and will gallop up to you in the field to ask for a good grooming and scratching.

Midwest PShR Inspection Test Riders

Marilyn Weber has trained horses from first steps under saddle to showing in Intermediare 1. Many breeds of horses have been trained in many disciplines from dressage to driving. Specializing in horses that amateurs can take home and enjoy has been very fulfilling. With a background that began in five gaited American Saddlebreds, Marilyn started riding dressage with Alice Martin in 1990. Since then her dressage education has continued with USDF seminars and instructor workshops plus riding for numerous clinicians such as Hubert Royer, Gerhardt Politz, Lee Tubman, Gary Rockwell, Betsy Steiner, Christian Carde, K A von Ziegner, Susanne von Dietze, Ingrid Klimke and many more. Most recently western dressage has been added to the education by attending the Train the Trainers seminar in 2014 and the western dressage judging seminar in January of this year.

Becky Schmitt is the Owner/Trainer at Skyline Equestrian Center in Elkhart Lake, WI.

Specializing in Dressage, she enjoys teaching a partnership between horse and rider. Becky grew up loving horses. At age 12 she saved enough money to buy her first horse. Becky spent her youth in 4-H. She attended William Woods University where she furthered her dressage knowledge riding under top trainers and judges. Becky recently turned Professional after 12 years of corporate sales and travel.

Almost a year ago, Becky met her first Shagya-Arabian. With now 4 residing at her farm she has fallen in love with the temperament and the bond the breed has with their riding partners.

Mr. Drew Van Hook is the Manager and Head Trainer for Silver Eagle Stable, and lives on site at the farm. Drew has a long history with the farm that now houses Silver Eagle Stable. He grew up on this farm, and as a young boy he was first introduced to horses by cleaning stalls and learning all aspects of horse care in exchange for riding lessons. He quickly grasped the concept of caring for the horses, and within a relatively short time excelled in his riding skills. Drew went on to compete in the show ring with great success. Once Drew hit his teenage years he was taught how to break and train horses, which lead to furthering his pursuit of all things equine by breaking and training horses professionally. Since this time, he has ridden for numerous trainers advancing his knowledge so as to excel in the horse industry.

Drew has since trained several horses, and taught numerous students that have gone on to win horse shows and year-end championships at both the local and state levels. Feel free to stop by Silver Eagle Stable anytime to chat with Drew. You can contact Drew by emailing him at dvanhook@sestable.com or by calling 703-559-2472.
